Resilience Program Manager

The Resilience Program Manager /Prevention Coordination Specialist (PCS) is in the Integrated Resilience Office (IRO) and a member of the Integrated Primary Prevention Workforce (IPPW). The IRO leads a cross-functional team with all of the helping agencies for quality-of-life, personal readiness, and community issues to formulate long-term solutions. The Director of the IRO serves as the Community Action Board (CAB) Executive Director while the Chief of the IPPW serves as the Community Action Team (CAT) Chair.

The Community Action Board (CAB) was established to promote cross-organizational collaboration in addressing individual, family, and community concerns. The CAB takes a strategic, cross-functional look at quality of life, personal readiness, resiliency, and community issues to formulate long-term solutions.

The Community Action Team (CAT) serves as the action arm of the CAB and develops a comprehensive, coordinated plan for integrating and implementing community outreach, prevention, and resiliency programs. The CAT is composed of leadership representatives from base primary helping agencies. The primary functions of the CAT are to:

- Support the activities of the installation CAB
- Improve delivery of human service programs by establishing a seamless system of services through collaborative partnerships and coordinated human service activities
- Identify community concerns for the CAB and propose solutions
- Prepare and implement an installation Comprehensive Integrated Primary Prevention (CIPP) Plan to guide the activities of the CAT, CAB, and member organizations using the results of DEOCS, installation feedback tool and other available data.

The American Red Cross has unwavering commitment to members of the U.S. military, its veterans and their families. Red Cross support of military members and their families enhances morale and contributes to increased operational capability.

The American Red Cross provides service men and women with three types of assistance beginning on the first day of enlistment, such as: Emergency Services, Service to Military Families and Service to Military and Veteran Hospitals. Red Cross services include:

- Emergency Communication/Linking Families During Emergencies: In the event of an emergency, critical accident, birth, serious illness or death in a service member's immediate family, the Red Cross can be called. Red Cross workers use advanced communications technologies to link service members with their families.
- Connecting Families with Local Community Resources: Building on its trusted presence in communities across the nation and on military installations around the world, the Red Cross links military families to local resources and support services.
- Emergency Financial Resources: The Red Cross, in partnership with the Aid Societies, may provide access to an interest-free loan or grant for emergency travel expenses. Referrals to specialized sources of help are also available.
- Providing Resiliency Training: Families back home count on the Red Cross to provide training that promotes resiliency and preparedness to help them cope with the challenges of military life.
- Other Services for Military Families: As a service member, you and your family have access to many valuable Red Cross services. The American Red Cross Service to the Armed Forces (SAF) network helps service members and their families cope with military life. Inquire for other Red Cross services provided/available.

Children/Youth/Teen

Child Development Center (CDC): Our centers are designed to be a home away from home for children of working parents while providing a safe, healthy learning environment where children ages 6 weeks to 5 years can discover, explore and learn about the world around them. Our creative curriculum is used to promote your child's physical, cognitive, social, emotional and language development. Our philosophy is that children learn through play. Our highest goal is to provide a safe, healthy, caring environment that encourages growth in discipline, self-control and respect for other's rights. This is accomplished by setting clear, consistent limits, applying logical consequences, modeling acceptable behaviors and by using mistakes as learning opportunities. We offer both Full-time; Part-time Enrichment; and Hourly Care to Active Duty Personnel, DoD Civilians, and Contractors. Full-time care is based off of family income. Hourly care, reservations can be made 30 days in advance and will be confirmed the day of needed care. Equal Opportunity

The Equal Opportunity (EO) office provides guidance in assisting commanders, staff agency chiefs, military and civilian personnel, family members and retirees on equal opportunity and human relations issues.

The Equal Opportunity (EO) program supports mission readiness by ensuring all personnel are provided an equal opportunity to fully use their abilities and talents toward mission accomplishment and enhance morale through fair and just treatment of personnel. EO works to improve mission effectiveness by promoting an environment free from institutional and personal discrimination. EO offers help to Commanders/Supervisors to conduct programs for equal opportunity and treatment. Additionally, EO processes formal and informal unlawful discrimination based off race, color, region, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, and sexual harassment complaints, as well as conducts human relations education. EO also makes referrals to appropriate agencies as necessary.

Military Complaints: Formal: You must contact EO within 60 duty days of the alleged discrimination. Informal: No time line

Civilian Complaints: You must contact EO within 45 calendar days of the alleged discrimination.

Family Advocacy

The Family Advocacy Program (FAP) works to prevent abuse by offering programs to put a stop to family violence before it starts. When abuse does occur, FAP works to ensure the safety of victims, helps military families overcome the effects of violence, and change destructive behavior patterns. FAP staff members are trained to respond to incidents of abuse and neglect, support victims, and offer prevention and treatment. FAP's goal is to build healthy families, free of child and partner abuse/neglect. FAP offers relationship enhancement programs and a variety of parenting programs.

Prevention Programs: FAP works to prevent domestic abuse and child abuse/neglect by providing education and awareness programs for all members of the military community. Couples Communication, Anger Management, Stress Management, Effective Parenting and Conflict Resolution are just a few of the educational programs available to help military families learn how to build positive relationships. FAP also provides educational programs to leadership and to service members during unit training.

Counseling: Sometimes counseling is the best way for individuals and couples to understand and change attitudes, impulses, and patterns of interacting that contribute to hurtful and potentially violent behavior. One-on-one support helps couples develop positive parenting techniques, manage anger and learn communication skills.

Public Awareness Campaigns: FAP works to help communities learn to recognize domestic and child abuse; where and how to report it and how victims can get help.

Domestic Abuse Victim Advocate (DAVA)

Family Advocacy takes action to protect victims from further abuse and help them heal.

DAVAs support victims by providing the following services:

DAVAs provide military personnel, their family members, or intimate partners who are victims of domestic abuse non-clinical emergent and urgent service whenever requested. Safety planning is one of the DAVA's most important roles in assisting victims of domestic violence. With the exception of mandatory state, federal and military reporting requirements (i.e., child abuse and duty to warn situations) the DAVA provides a private and confidential service to encourage victims seeking assistance.

The DAVA role is to provide safety-planning services and comprehensive assistance and liaison to and for victims of domestic abuse and to educate personnel on the installation regarding the most effective responses to domestic abuse on behalf of victims. All DAVA services are voluntary.

Services include, but not necessarily limited to: Responding to victim's emergency and ongoing safety concerns and needs; providing information about program and services available to victims and their children both in the civilian and military communities, and providing victims with ongoing support and referrals. This also includes assistance with Military Protective Orders and Civilian Orders of Protection. DAVAs also will provide information on Restricted and Unrestricted Reporting options for domestic violence. Victims do not need to have an open FAP case to access the DAVA.

Inspector General (Complaints Resolution)

The Inspector General's goal is to ensure adherence to DOD and AF policies, standards, and programs. IG provides a fair and credible system for processing complaints; i.e., formal assertions of wrongdoing; violations of law, regulation, instruction, policy, procedure, or rule; or conditions detrimental to the operation, mission, or reputation of the Air Force.

The Wing Inspector General (IG) also oversees the base's complaints and Fraud, Waste, & Abuse programs; and its primary charge is to ensure a viable, responsive complaints program characterized by fairness, integrity and impartiality. IG also assesses unit readiness through a combination of base-wide exercises and the installation's self-inspection program. In this regard, it's also responsible for planning, executing and evaluating exercise scenarios in order to provide wing leadership a site picture of the wing's response capability.

Matters/Complaints Appropriate for the IG:

Fraud, waste, and abuse or gross mismanagement; a violation of law, policy, procedures, instructions, or regulations; an injustice; abuse of authority, inappropriate conduct, misconduct, and allegations of restriction or reprisal.

If you have a complaint: Use your chain or command or local resources first; contact the IG if you're still unable to resolve the issue.

Who Can Consult/File a Complaint with the IG: Anyone. Including: military members, civilian employees, retirees, family members, or any other parties who allege fraud, waste, abuse, or other wrongdoing.

The Inspector General serves commanders/directors and their assigned organizations by executing the complaint resolution process designed to:

- Indicate where commander involvement is needed to correct systemic, programmatic, or procedural weaknesses and ensures resources are used effectively and efficiently
- Resolve issues affecting the Air Force mission promptly and objectively
- Create an atmosphere of trust in which issues can be objectively and fully resolved without retaliation or the fear of reprisal
- Assist commanders in instilling confidence in Air Force leadership

Mental Health

Services provided at the Mental Health Clinic include individual, group and psycho-educational treatment for stress, depression, anxiety, marital discord, military duty issues, adjustment difficulties, loss or death, family difficulties, management of anger and physical pain, communication problems, sleep disturbance, suicide prevention, and other mental health-related concerns.

The mental health clinic offers an educational sleep class by referral only. An educational class on depression is also available for current mental health patients. The clinic also provides extensive consultation to command and civilian entities on mental health issues. Military evaluations for Air Force special clearances or duty are arranged as required by Air Force instruction or policy.

Active Duty may self-refer by calling the MHC for an initial appointment. Members are encouraged to seek help before problems become severe or disruptive enough to have a negative impact on an individual's health, family, career, or mission. Mental health services are best used early when the opportunity for a positive outcome is highest.

Every effort is made to provide privacy and confidentiality for individuals seeking help. With the exception of individuals on the Personnel Reliability Program, unit leadership is not routinely notified of an active duty member's participation in MH services unless it is determined that the member's behaviors will significantly interfere with duty performance, the mission, in situations where there is danger to self and/or others, or there is a need to engage the command's support of the member.

Military & Family Life Counselors (MFLC)

The Military and Family Life Counselor (MFLC) program provides confidential, short-term, situational, problem-solving, non-medical, "walk-around" life counseling services to active duty military members serving in all branches of the military, as well as the National Guard and Reserves, and their family members at no cost.

Need to talk? Military families face unique challenges. They may struggle with issues such as deployment-related stress, reintegration and pressures of managing parenting and finances while a loved one is deployed. To support military families facing these or additional challenges, MFLCS are available to talk it out.

MFLC services include:

- Confidential, short-term, non-medical counseling services to service members and their families at no cost.
- Psycho-education to help military service members and their families understand the impact of deployments, family reunions following deployments and other stresses related to the military life
- Augments existing military support services
- Flexible service delivery (can provide services on or off of military installations)
- Can provide services to individuals, couples, families and groups

*With the exception of child abuse, domestic abuse and duty to warn situations services are private and confidential.

School Liaison (SL)

Joint Region Marianas, Guam

School Liaisons (SLs) help connect military families, commands and K-12 Schools to support military children and their families as they move around the world and transfer between school systems. Joint Region Marianas Guam School Liaisons are here to assist you with just about any school related question.

CORE SERVICES

- School Transition Services (PCS Cycle): School Liaison Officers assist families with school transfers and help "level the playing field" for military children and youth.
- Deployment Support: School Liaison Officers connect educators with the deployment support system to inform them about the cycles of deployment and the tools available to assist educators in working with military children.
- Command, School, Community Communications: School Liaison Officers serve as subject-matter experts for installation commanders on K-12 issues, helping to connect command, school and community resources.
- Home School Linkage and Support: School Liaison Officers assist military families by gathering and sharing information on home schooling issues, policies and legislation from local school districts, and help leverage Navy Child and Youth Programs resources to support these families.
- Partnerships in Education (PIE): PIE creates a volunteer network of resources to support installation and community members who have a vested interest in the success of all youth.
- Post-Secondary Preparations: School Liaison Officers leverage installation and school resources to provide graduating military students with access to post-secondary information and opportunities.
- Special Needs System Navigation: School Liaison Officers provide information about installation and community programs and services, make referrals to the Exceptional Family Member Program, and offer assistance in navigating the administrative systems within local education agencies.

Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC)

Sexual Assault Prevention and Response Coordinator (SARC) and Victim Advocates assist victims (survivors) of sexual assault. The SARC is responsible for ensuring a victim support system exists, capable of responding to all reported sexual assaults, 24 hours a day-7days a week, occurring on or off the installation.

Reports of sexual assault for military members, adult family members and Federal civilian personnel may be made to the SARC, Victim Advocate or healthcare provider. The SARC shall assist as necessary to ensure victims of sexual assault receive the appropriate responsive care. Services are offered for victims regardless if the assault is recent or occurred in the past.

Additionally, the SARC is responsible for facilitating continuity of care and case management in the event the victim has a permanent change of station, is deployed or redeployed. Continuity of care and case management transfer is contingent upon victim's concurrence..

Victims may make a restricted report (available to AD/Guard/Res military personnel and their adult family members as well as GS and NAF Federal Employees) or an unrestricted report (available to all of the above to include GS and NAF employees dependents over age of 18).

The SARC engages in coordination and oversight efforts for the following services/areas:

Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC)

Restricted reporting option is for victims of sexual assault who wish to confidentially disclose the assault to the SARC, victim advocate or healthcare personnel and receive medical treatment and counseling without activating the official investigative process.

- It allows for the collection of forensic evidence without giving up confidentiality. Evidence includes, but is not limited to, a sexual assault forensic exam to be completed by a trained sexual assault medical forensic examiner. The evidence is anonymously coded and stored for up to 5 years and will not be processed without the victim's consent.
- The exceptions to restricted reporting include any communication that reveals imminent danger; the victim's release of information regarding the alleged assault; ordered by military justice; ordered by civilian court; or child abuse.
- To file a Restricted Report, the victim must meet with a SARC or VA.
- The SARC must be notified when a victim wishes to initiate a restricted report.
- Supervisors, Commanders, First Sergeants, Security Forces and OSI are mandatory reporters. If a victim reports the assault to anyone in their chain of command AFOSI will be notified and the only option available at that time will be an unrestricted reporting option.

Unrestricted reporting option is for victims of sexual assault who desire an official investigation of the crime, receive command support, medical treatment and counseling.

- When selecting unrestricted reporting, personnel can use current reporting channels e.g., chain of command, law enforcement, or report the incident to the Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) or request healthcare providers to notify law enforcement.
- To file a Restricted Report, the victim must meet with a SARC or VA. •The SARC must be notified when a victim wishes to initiate a restricted report.
- At the victim's discretion/request, a trained healthcare provider shall conduct a sexual assault forensic examination (SAFE), which may include the collection of evidence.
- Details regarding the incident will be limited to only those personnel who have a legitimate need to know.

Independent Reporting:

- If you tell someone who subsequently notifies the chain of command, or if someone observes the assault and notifies command, an investigation is launched, and the option for a Restricted Report may not be available.
- To preserve your right to restricted report, contact the SARC or VA first.

Deployment and Readiness

Deployment Readiness and Support:

The M&FRC provides deployment support briefings throughout the deployment cycle to include pre-deployment, mid-deployment, post-deployment and supports for deploying Sailors/Airmen and family members with information, resources, and referral services. "Hearts Apart" special events are also planned throughout the year to offer family-friendly activities for spouses and children with a deployed loved one.

Exceptional Family Member Program:

M&FRC has an Exceptional Family Member Program – Family Support (EFMP-FS) Coordinator who provides specific family support services. These services may include information and referral, systems navigation, needs assessments, development and maintenance of an individualized service plan and non-medical case management.

Commander's Key Support Liaison (CKSL) Program:

M&FRC provides Initial, Refresher, and Quarterly Advanced training and resources for the Commander's Key Support Liaison (CKSL) Program; a volunteer based, unit commander program that acts as a conduit between leadership and families.

Personal and Family Life Education:

Personal and Family Life Education provides educational, supportive, and preventive services to Service members, couples, and families to help them build and maintain healthy relationships; strengthen interpersonal competencies and problem solving skills. M&FRC provided classes/programs to address parenting (Bundles for Babies) and a new military spouse orientation - Heart Link (AF 101) and Spouse Newcomer's Orientation (Guam 101).

Relocation Assistance Program (RAP):

M&FRC provides digital sponsor packages, information and access to relocation services, to include guidance on permanent change of station (PCS) moves and access to computer-based resources to research new locations. M&FRC also has a Loan Locker to provide household goods when belongings are in transit, both when you first arriving on island and when preparing to leave the island. RAP classes/workshops include Right Start, Smooth Move, Sponsorship 101, Spouse/Newcomer's Orientation (SNO) and a FREE Hafa Adai Island Tour.
